broncho bill.

Partner is Dead.

A Special to the Bulletin, from Geronimo says: the U. S. Marshal's posses, consisting of J. D. Milton, Wm. Scarborough and Thacker and Martin, arrived at Geronimo with "Broncho Bill," who was captured at Hampson's horsecamp on Black river last Friday. The posse of officers were accompanied by seven cow-boys who had been deputized to guard against any attempt to rescue "Broncho Bill," by his country.

The first reports received of the capture stated that "Broncho Bill" had been shot five or six times, but this was a mistake as he was wounded only once and that not seriously.

Bill Johnson, "Broncho's" partner, was shot through the body and died from the wound on Monday and was buried at the horse camp where the capture was made.

He will be taken to New Mexico and tried for train rebbery and murder, he having killed a sheriff and two deputies who attemped his arrest after his last train rebbery.

A reward of five hundred dollars each had been offered by the Wells Fargo Express Co. for Johnson and "Broncho Bill."

ALCOHOLISM AS A STUDY.

He is in Custody While His An Act Compelling its Study In Territorial Schools.

On May 20, 1886, congress passed an act making the study of alcoholism with reference to its effect upon the human system, a branch of study in the naval and military schools of the United Sates, in the Indian schools of the states and territories. and among the pupils of the public schools. The act is known as '24 Star. 69." Previous to the passage of this law many states, cities and school friends who live in the Black river organizations throughout the east especially, had made this subject a branch of study.

Somebody evidently a resident of a territory, has brought the matter to the notice of the secretary of the interior in an inquiry as to whether the law was applicable to the public schools of the territories. The secretary referred the inquiry to the attorney-general and an exhaustive opinion has been submitted by Aseistant Attorney-General Willis Van Bevanter. Mr. Van Devanter decides that the law is applicable to territories and that it is the duty of boards of education to enforce it. He further decides that the law prohibits the granting of certificates to te-eners who do not hold diplomas showing that they have taken a course in physiology and hygiene, particularly with reference to the effect of the use of alcohol upon the human system. The assistant attorney-general also holds that a territorial legislature cannot enact a law inconsistent with the foregoing act of congress.
